● SKIPPER'S MOTIVATION

We are delighted to come and participate in the Normandy Channel Race. It's a wonderful race. The course offers many reversals of situations due to its complexity. We always have so much pleasure to come and sail in this class40. The atmosphere is always good there, and the regattas are often very hotly contested ... For our part, this is the culmination of a very complicated year, we launched on September 2nd. For us to be at the start is already a victory in itself, the site was formidable by its efficiency and precision. The external speakers were able to make themselves available so that we were ready on time. Hats off to everyone. On the ambition side: we come to win! Even if the boat was launched only 10 days before departure, our duo are very complementary and very competitive. We are hungry, we will fight to the finish line.
