● SKIPPER'S MOTIVATION

Christophe RATEAU, doctor by training, and Hendrik VOORTHUIS, company manager, live in the Ile de France. They have shared their passion for the sea and ocean racing for several years. Amateur sailors, they race in Class40 with the Contre Vents et Cancers Team. The Normandy Channel Race, the flagship event of the championship, is a very good double-handed race, which takes its place in the preparation of the Globe40 2022.

Against Winds and Cancers

By participating in major ocean races, the members of Team Contre Vents et Cancers are committed, beyond the sporting adventure, to a great cause.

They wish to raise awareness and mobilize for the needs of research against cancer, which, with nearly 385,000 new cases diagnosed and 150,000 deaths per year, remains the leading cause of death from disease.

With them, support the fight against cancer and make a donation to Gustave Roussy, the 1st center for the fight against cancer in Europe, ranked in the top 5 worldwide of the best hospitals in oncology.
