● LE MOT DES SKIPPERS

Antoine: The CIC Normandy Channel Race is for me a magnificent race which always brings together a very good field. This is all the more true this year, with the launch of a good number of new Class40s. It will be an opportunity to be able to gauge Redman against the new boats. Our goal is clearly to win this major event on the Class40 circuit! This is why I joined forces with Pablo, specialist of the Class40 circuit and who has already won this event twice!

Pablo: The CIC Normandy Channel Race is a very complex race that combines offshore and coastal racing. We have seen several times that you have to always be in the leading group because there are a lot of level crossings with site effects and current. That's why it's a very open race without too much rest. This will be my fourth NCR and the first three have always been different. With Antoine, we have known each other for a long time, we know the course and we have a good boat, so a priori, we have all the tools to achieve a good result and that is clearly our goal.
