● SKIPPER'S MOTIVATION

This CIC Normandy Channel Race has become an expected event in the Class40 season. The three editions I have already participated in have each time brought their share of suspense, twists and surprises. The complexity of the course and its constraints are really conducive to incredible scenarios. During the last edition, it was on the edge and after an unbearable suspense that I won with Ambrogio Beccaria. This year I will defend this title, but this time I will be accompanied by Antoine Carpentier with whom we have just won the Atlantic Challenge. The race looks like being very tough and I can't wait to start!
