● SKIPPER'S MOTIVATION

For one of us, it's a first; for the other, a return to familiar waters. But this time, as a team. It will be our first showdown in such a dense and competitive fleet. And we're excited. We want to get the best out of ourselves and our boat, and show what we're made of. We see this race as an opportunity to take a big step forward. We're eager to dive into the strategic challenges and tackle the demanding, ever-changing course ahead. Every mile will be a lesson, and every decision, a test.
